

The BlackBirds logo was born at the beginning of the millennium (2001) with the distribution of IT services for Tata Consulting Services, an Indian company known as India's largest IT service provider, which today employs around 500,000 employees. Today, we are partners of CAS SOFTWARE AG, which has won first place in most important innovation competition of Germany for SMEs and has been declared the best IT company in all classes from TOP 100. We are your personal GLOCAL distributor of solutions both organizational and IT. We offer the best international platform applications implemented locally for our customers, with the hope that our services can help them grow and have a more organized change.

Blackbirds are migratory birds that fly every year, from Asia to Europe, for miles in orderly flocks. We are inspired by the organization of these tireless migratory birds, and believe in organization, sustainability, safety and respect for all the people present in the organization of our customers, as well as our collaborators and employees.

Our ambition is to serve our clients all around the world with consulting and international software applications, guaranteeing consolidated relationships of partnership and proven success of our services.
